

BWF World Junior Championships - Integrity Information

Tuesday 17 September 2019

Dear Members and Continental Confederations

Further to our Memo on Friday 13 September, on the BWF World Junior Championships taking place in Kazan, Russia, later this month, please find more information for your Team Manager.

Please forward this notice to your Team Manager going to Kazan.

This notice contains information about some tasks that managers and players must do before going to Russia:

1. Complete a BWF Integrity Questionnaire online.
2. Register each athlete on IOC's Athlete365 online integrity e-learning portal and WADA's ADeL online anti-doping e-learning portal and complete the education online.
3. Brief your team on the fundamentals – anti-doping and anti-match manipulation – so you are ready. See some useful links to material on the BWF website.

BWF Integrity Questionnaire

As in previous years, the BWF is asking all athletes, coaches, team managers, athlete support personnel to complete an integrity questionnaire.

There are only 16 questions and covers the topic areas of anti-doping and anti-match manipulation.

The questionnaires are available in 7 languages and the links to each questionnaire can be found below.

Please make sure that all athletes, coaches, team managers, athlete support personnel going to the BWF World Junior Championships, complete this questionnaire before they leave for Kazan.

Choose your language:

- English – linked here
- Bahasa – linked here
- French – linked here

Education Online Before the BWF World Junior Championships

The BWF is requesting that each athlete and support personnel member sign up to the following educational portals:

- Athlete365 (IOC)
- ADeL (WADA)

Team Managers should assist the athlete and support personnel to do this.

Here is a brief overview of each of the educational portals.

Athlete365

This programme contains e-learning activities as well as a 10-question quiz.

The 10 questions are related to various topics such as Cheating, Betting, Inside Information and Obligation to Report.

Upon successful completion of the quiz, a certificate is issued.

Before you go to the BWF World Junior Championships, please ensure all athletes register on Athlete365 and complete the anti-match manipulation quiz.

Information is available in more than 10 different languages and it is accessible on any device including smartphones, tablets or laptops.

This should not take longer than 15 minutes.

How to access (see below and the instructions attached):

1. Access the IOC Athlete365 platform:
2. Create a new account or enter your login credentials. Please make sure that the fields (i.e. sport, country) are properly filled in so that you appear in the reporting.
3. Click on your name in the top menu, then choose "My Classes"
4. Open and run "Awareness raising programme – manipulation of competitions" in the language of your choice.
5. Read the e-learning and complete the Quiz
6. Obtain your IOC Course Certificate

The quiz should be successfully completed prior to your teams travelling to Russia

ADeL

The anti-doping e-learning platform (ADeL) will serve as a central hub for all of WADA's e-learning courses and resources and offers access to all topics related to clean sport and anti-doping.

It offers courses for athletes, coaches, doctors, administrators and anyone interested in learning more about anti-doping and protecting the values of clean sport.

This programme contains various e-learning resources to increase your anti-doping knowledge.

Further information about the ADeL portal can be found at this video link –

BEFORE the BWF World Junior Championships, the BWF is requesting that all athletes begin the ALPHA module, with all coaches beginning the Coach True module.

How to access:

1. Access the WADA ADeL platform: <https://adel.wada-ama.org/en>
2. Create a new account or enter your login credentials. Please make sure that the fields (i.e. sport, country) are properly filled in so that you appear in the reporting.
3. Begin the ALPHA or Coach True program

Registering with both of the educational portals should be done in advance of your travel to the BWF World Junior Championships.

More information –Anti-Doping / Anti-Match Manipulation

The BWF website has a lot of information on these topics – anti-doping and anti-match manipulation

Please see the attached document which has direct links to information on key themes. This is useful for managers and athletes.
