Like everywhere else in the world, the COVID-19 situation in Germany and the resulting measures taken by state and local authorities are a dynamic process, which is currently less dramatic in Germany than in other countries.

Please refer to the following link of the German Foreign Ministry for the current entry restrictions, which is constantly updated.

The restrictions do not apply to third-country nationals who already have a longer-term right of residence in an EU member state or a Schengen country or the United Kingdom (residence permit or long-term visa), which must be proved on request.

An overview of current information on travel restrictions and border controls as defined by the Federal Ministry of the Interior can be found via the link below, which also lists the countries that have unrestricted entry to Germany.
